Police Reports

MALE CHARGED

The OPP Haliburton Highlands Detachment with the assistance of the City of Kawartha Lakes/Haliburton County Crime Unit has laid charges against a Jackson Point man in relation to an ongoing investigation into a personal injury snowmobile collision that occurred in December of 2006.

On December 9 2006, the OPP was called to investigate a snowmobile collision that had occurred on a snowmobile trail running alongside the Gelert Rd in the Township of Minden Hills. In February of 2007, the OPP charged a Pickering man with the Impaired Driving, Driving Over 80mgs and Fail to Remain under the criminal code.

After further investigation police have charged a second person in regards to this incident.

Craig Goddard 36 years of Jackson Point has been charged with Obstructing Justice contrary to the Criminal Code of Canada. Mr. Goddard will be appearing on April 2nd, 2008 in Minden, Ontario in relation to the charge. ■

Have Your Say... VOX POP

We asked people about how they will be spending their Easter and what does the holiday mean to them?

Ronald Hagarty, Haliburton – "My wife and I are staying home and are having a nice dinner. Besides having an Easter dinner, this is a time for thanking God for the blessings we have and for being able to live in Canada."

Joan Langille, Minnicock Lake – "I'm thinking of going out to the Haliburton Forest & Wildlife Reserve and to the Bracebridge Sportsplex. I'll be doing some day trips. I might be taking my great grandson to Sir Sams. Easter is a time for family get-together dinners."

Wendy "the bus driver," Miners Bay – "I'm going to do a big dinner. It'll be time to spend with the rowdy grandkids. I'll be waiting for Peter Cottontail to come. It'll be a family and friends get together to eat and be merry!"

Marianne Sanders – "We'll be back home in Prince Edward County. I'm looking at what I'll be cooking for dinner. It used to be about religion, but now I think it's more about having the holiday."

Miles Roberts, Haliburton – "I'm having the family come over. It'll be a traditional Easter dinner. It'll be a time of total relaxation for the family. It is a religious time and I think we need to keep that in focus."

Krista McAlpine, Minden – "I'll be spending it with the kids. Hopefully we'll be playing outside in the beautiful sunshine. It's a special weekend to spend time with the family. It's also a sign of Spring around the corner!"

From the Minden Animal Hospital

Joint Effort, Part Three Meet Misty!

Meet Misty, the amazing short haired, longhair cat. When we first met, she was not walking well and she was telling me quite loudly that something was not right. Misty was a bit on the grumpy side as far as cats go. She was not always that way. Misty's parents adopted her from a veterinary clinic in Toronto 11 years ago. She lived a life of good health and happy times until just recently when her parents noticed she was acting very differently, very crabby, just not herself at all. Misty's favourite place in the whole house was the bed but she needed a step stool to get up onto the bed now. She could not jump anymore. She was not a cat you could cuddle, not very happy.

Misty came to the hospital with pain in her back end. She had an attitude of "touch me and I will strike"! When she was in for a transformation from a long hair to a short hair cat (since no one could brush or groom her anymore) she had x-rays of her hips and knees. It hurt just looking at the radiographs as there was so much damage evident in the joints. X-rays revealed severe degenerative joint disease, osteoarthritis. No wonder she was grumpy. No wonder she did not want to jump up on the bed anymore, it was painful. Pain can make anyone grumpy. Pain from osteoarthritis is inevitable; suffering from it is an option.

Misty's parents chose to try to make her more comfortable. Now that was a challenge.

Cats cannot take just any anti-inflammatory or pain medication. We are very limited in medication available and licensed for use in cats especially for long term use. One Tylenol will kill the average size cat. Some anti-inflammatories can only be given twice a week.

Misty would not allow any medication to pass by her lips anyhow so oral medication would not be easy. We have options for cats that cannot be medicated by mouth. There are transdermal gels placed inside the ear, patches to put on their side, injectable medications given weekly and medication hidden in tasty treats of many flavours, to name a few.

Misty's parents drove her to the clinic weekly for injections and gave her nutraceuticals that were tasty containing omega 3 fatty acids, glucosamine and chondroitin. In just four weeks, she was jumping the gate into the room with food in it, acting like a kitten again. That was pretty quick but Misty and mom and dad are happy about that. Misty will have to have injections periodically for life and the nutraceuticals for life as well. Her parents are willing to do that to make her happier, which makes them happier and life will run a lot more smoothly when the boss is happy. Behavior changes in our pets is the first sign that there is a problem that needs to be addressed, often a medical problem. Many of the problems can be found and addressed at the annual examination before they become a full blown medical problem. It is easier to control pain before it becomes unbearable. It is easier to prevent problems or prolong wellness when problems are addressed early in the course of the disease. There are many Misty's out there with pain where owners think their pet is just getting old and cranky. A few diagnostic tests and treatments may make a world of difference in your pet's comfort. It sure did for Misty. ■

Local Talent Takes to the Stage

Haliburton County Folk Society (HCFS) Hosts Open Mic Night

Musicians, poets and regular folks took over the stage for Open Mic Night at the Haliburton Museum.

On Saturday, March 15, everyone was welcomed to perform for an audience.

"We have 10 different acts," said Sean Pennylegion, Haliburton County Folk Society (HCFS) member. "We really encourage people to come out, it's a safe environment here," said Pennylegion. "We have really good acoustics in this building," he added.

Entry fee for the night was $2, with the money going to the HCFS. According to Pennylegion, The Open Mic Night will continue to take place once a month on every third Tuesday at the museum.

The HCFS promotes folk music and sponsors open stages and concerts in the Haliburton Highlands.

A sounds system is already set-up for performers when they arrive, so all they need to do is come on down.

"It's a wonderful, warm environment," said Pennylegion. The HCFS is just about open to anything, so go ahead and present them with your ideas. They can be found online at www.haliburtonfolk.com. You can also reach them by phone at (705) - 754 - 3655. ■

St. Patty's Day Celebrated in Style at the Minden Legion Branch

Newfoundland native performing artist hits the stage

Mark Arike
Staff Reporter

The colour green could be seen everywhere at the Minden Legion Branch, when performing artist Chuck Simms sang a variety of songs for a St. Patty's themed party.

"This has been my fifth or sixth time here at the Minden Legion," said Simms. Born in Grand Bank, Newfoundland, Simms found a knack for music at a very early age when he would sing along with his mother, while his father played the accordion.

"When I was a youngster, if we weren't fishing we were playing music," he said. He describes his sound as a blend of Gaelic, folk, Irish and Newfoundland music. In his arsenal of musical instruments, Simms is capable of playing the guitar, mandolin, banjo, mouth organ and the accordion. Also from Newfoundland to accompany him in his performance was accordion player, Winston Saunders.

Simms says he left his hometown of Newfoundland for three months to put on this show in various town and cities.

"We come up and play festivals, big gigs and functions. Then we wiggle down back home." Some of the places Simms has played include: New Brunswick, Cape Breton, Prince Edward Island and Halifax. Besides performing, he is a lobster and crab fisher.

Simms admits to having written over 150 songs, however, a lot of the songs he does on stage are covers of other artists.

"I play a lot of The Clancy Brothers, The Dubliners..." he said.

Over the past 35 years, the 64 year-old artist has put together 17 albums which include cover songs and his own original material.

"I love this area," said Simms about Minden. He doesn't, however, enjoy the amount of snow we've seen.

"It's the most snow I've seen since coming to play for the past 11 years!"

According to Simms, the audience can be quite receptive to him whenever he performs in Minden.

"They're good. Every time I come here it's a sell-out. We are able to draw in the young people as well as the older people."

One other thing Simms also enjoys doing is telling jokes. Usually the crowd will laugh along; except for one particular instance.

"I was singing some songs and telling some jokes at an old-folks home. I started telling a couple jokes but nobody would laugh and I said, 'I wonder why?' It was because they were all Ukrainian. Nobody understood English!"

As for his next shows, Simms plans on going to Prince Edward Island next. He says he'd then like to spend some time back at home.

"I hope to stay home for a full year and do some festivals there."

In his biography, available at www.chucksimms.ca, Simms says that he has been told that he has a "down-home personality, and that he is honoured when people tell him that they are 'fans.'"

And for now, he's all caught up in spreading the word about who he is and what his music reflects.

"A lot of people don't know who I am, they never met me. So, I'm at the age now that it's about time that I introduced myself!" ■

Comedy/Family
Walk Hard: The Dewey Cox Story
Max Rules
I Could Never Be Your Woman

Choosing the right movie is sometimes more difficult than people imagine. There's always the family conflict of which movie to settle on. One person wants something funny, one person wants something scary, and then there's a battle of wits to decide which movie to pick. The more common arguments are 'You chose last time', or 'I heard that movie sucks anyways'. People say whatever they need to say in order to win those arguments. How do I know this, you ask? Well, I sit at the desk in the little family owned store at 50 York Street in Haliburton called Press Play Movies & Games, and I watch. Working at the video store has sort of made me the movie expert, so to speak. I'm pretty much the most qualified employee here, since my job is to watch movies and decide whether to recommend them to others. So I'm going to write about the movies that are coming into the store every week, and talk about a couple of the more interesting ones. So maybe, just maybe, there will be less trouble deciding on the best movie to take home.

Big Releases

The Water Horse: The heartwarming story of a boy named Angus who finds a mysterious egg on the beach and brings it home to raise the rarest, most magical creature Scotland has ever seen.

the flickchick's pick : In Stores Now

Enchanted

Rated: G (family) Length: 107 min.

Starring: Amy Adams, Patrick Dempsey, James Marsden, Susan Sarandon

Most of the movies I've watched lately have proven to be as complex and intricate as the next. A lot of the new releases aimed at viewers over the age of ten have been full of plot twists and espionage and battles of honour. And then occasionally comes a long a film such as Enchanted, where your heart leaps with the heroes and a smile stays with you throughout the whole film. Once again Disney has managed to create a classic for all ages, combining the fairy tale graphics of animation and the real life fast-paced New York City to create the ultimate story of love and happy endings. When Giselle, a beautiful young girl destined to marry Prince Edward of Andalasia, is catapulted into the harsh reality of modern day New York by Edwards evil step mother, she must adapt to the people she meets, none of them to impressed by her naïve outlook on life and love. Lost in a city of cynics, Giselle must rely on Morgan, a young girl whose heart still believes in fairy tales, and her father, Robert, whose scornful attitude towards relationships stands between Giselle and her way home. Full of innocence and Disney's underlying current of adult humour, Enchanted is indeed just that. Creativity, magic, and an all star cast all unite into the perfect happily ever after.

Quote of the Movie:
Morgan: Remember not to put too much makeup or the boys may get the wrong idea. They are only after one thing.
Giselle: What's that?
Morgan: I don't know. They won't tell me.

Horoscopes

It's in the Stars

BORN THIS WEEK: You are respected for your honesty and your dedication to doing the right thing, no matter how difficult that might be.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Congratulations, Lamb. This is the week to finish your project and then bask in your well-earned approval. (And if you like, you can also say "bah" to all those detractors.)

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) The possibility of a career change is intriguing. Learn more about what it can offer and what it cannot. Weigh everything carefully. And ask questions.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) The bold Bovine could find a new opportunity too intriguing to be ignored. But don't charge into it. Go slowly so you see how things develop as you get more involved.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Work is your priority this week as you try to make up for lost time. Expect help from someone who cares about you. Things take a welcome turn by the weekend.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You might try to soften your stand on that important issue. A little more flexibility could actually get you what you're looking for. A new friend enters the picture midweek.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A health problem causes some anxiety early in the week. But prompt medical attention soon eases everyone's concerns. Enjoy an arts-filled weekend.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Your inner voice is on the mark when it advises you to tackle that family problem now! The sooner you're able to come to terms with it, the better it will be for everyone.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) As much as you might resent it, a changing situation could require you to adjust your plans accordingly. The good news: An associate agrees to cooperate.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Someone reveals important news about a longtime associate. But before you decide how to deal with this information, make sure it's reliable, and not simply self-serving.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) That old problem is finally resolved, just in time for you to take on a new work-related project. This one could be the super door-opener you've been looking for.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Some intensive soul-searching early in the week can help you reach a decision by week's end that should please both you and the other person involved. Good luck.

Taste-Testing from the LCBO Food & Drink Guide

Fundraiser event held at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery

Mark Arike

Staff Reporter

It was a divine evening for food and drink lovers, as they converged to the Agnes Jamieson Gallery for a little bit of taste-testing.

On Saturday, March 15, starting at 7 pm, caterer Betty Mark served up some wonderful snacks out of the LCBO Food & Drink Guide. And of course, alcoholic beverages were also on the menu to wash them down, so you had to be 19 or older to attend. The event was open to all people of the legal drinking age.

Admission to the event was $20, which gave participants six vouchers to use for drinks, snacks or a combination of both. Proceeds from the night were going towards further acquisitions for the gallery.

Laurie Carmount, Curator for the Agnes Jamieson Gallery, said that the turnout was close to what was expected.

"We calculated about 50 people," said Carmount. "So far, it's been very good," she said of people's reactions to the fundraiser. She went on to explain that the publisher of the Food & Drink Guide had given them copies of the publication from different years to go through. It is from there that they were able to decide on what foods to prepare that would go along with the drinks being served. Two years ago, a similar event was put on at the gallery, which was a wine and beer fest.

"It took me two days to make these on my own," said Mark. Just in case the entrees ran low, she had extra food ready and waiting in the fridge.

The foods on the menu came out of various 2007 and 2008 guides and included: Chinese chicken salad, turkey burger with avocado relish, creamy goat cheese with red pepper, chivies biscuits with smoked salmon, modern bits and bites, roasted onion and cheddar dip, double chocolate cupcakes and maple cream walnut tarts.

Drinks featured were: Silver Leaf Chardonnay P.E.T., Cono Sur Pinot Noir, Tank House Ale and 20 Bees 2005 Growers' White Ontario and Wild Vines Strawberry Zinfandel.

"I think the whole idea is very nice," said Ted Anthon of Mountain Lake. "It's a nice little social."

"I'm very impressed," said Ross Rigney of Canning Lake.

Estella Burch of Mountain Lake was also enjoying the mix of treats and wines.

"I had the smoked salmon biscuits with Cono Sur Pinot Noir wine. It was very nice!" ■

Sandy Slote, Artist

So What's in Your Laundry?

Tiffany Howe
County Voice

So you've seen the press releases and now you must be wondering, what's all the buzz about? Sandy Slote's exhibition, frankly, is all crisp and clean, with that fresh off the line scent included for free!

There's just something about a clothes line full of crisp clean laundry. No matter who you are they're reminiscent of some time, place, or emotion. Maybe it's that time your slinky unmentionables ended up in the neighbour's garden, or perhaps it's that new, clean smell of your sheets when mom made your bed.

"Don't air your dirty laundry, let it all hang out" is an old proverb I'm sure many of you have heard. Whatever it may be, Sandy Slote has likely captured that in one of her paintings celebrating the life and times of a clothes line.

"There's just something uplifting about hanging the wash on a clothes line, like starting fresh," Sandy explains. "In a way, it says freedom. It gets you outside." Although there are, she's found, rules and structure, or laundry hanging etiquette, if you will; a point of pride for the seasoned laundress.

There was no particular moment that defined Sandy as an artist, she just always drew and painted. As a babysitting aid, her parents would sit her down with a pad of paper, some pencils, and the Sears catalogue. That kept her contentedly busy for hours. She was always artistic, always painting and drawing on and with anything she could get her hands on. Her sister Sheila adds "and she is the only artistically inclined one in the family!"

Not only is Sandy a painter but she's also a sculptor, garden designer, and an ace with a sewing machine. She has been sewing since grade 6 and uses this talent to alter outfits found at the Sally Ann and do occasional commissioned seamstress work.

Her affinity with second hand stores has been with her since University. Her mother would occasionally give her money to buy some new clothes, beg her to pick up something nice, even try to make her promise. Sandy only wanted to buy more art supplies, refused to promise, and bought more supplies. A resourceful sprout she was, when it came to necessities, sometimes bartering at the fruit market, I'll give you a design for a storefront sign, you give me a basket of fruit.

Sandy certainly has had her fair share of travel and education. She studied fashion at Sheridan College in Oakville, then spent two years there driving a taxi, which she says was pretty fun! After that she headed off on an adventure to Northern B.C., about 30 miles south of the Yukon as the crow flies. She spent a good year up there then returned to earn her Bachelor of Fine Art at the University of Windsor, her home town. One of her professors was the famous designer Alfred Sung. Then she came up to Haliburton and settled right in. The travel bug stayed with her and took her to London, Hawaii, and Mexico. The painting "Sayulita" was commissioned from one of her photographs from Mexico. It's no shock that Sandy says she found inspiration in the colours and the laundry she saw while she was there. As far as inspirational travel goes, Sandy says "I'm not done yet. It's a work in progress." She recently discovered a new love as well, surfing. On the ocean, that is. So most definitely there will be more journeys to find more waves.

When asked if there is a main source of inspiration she replies "No particular thing inspires me that you could put your finger on except maybe my kayak. I've always like to take the inanimate and add a touch of myself to it, a quirk of humour to make someone laugh at themselves, or laugh at me." In this exhibition she has achieved that, exploring this somewhat abstract yet familiar subject to see how far she could take it. For her it was an obvious choice of topics. She's even got mini clothes lines in her houseplants. Over time the theme grew into a statement for her, which she has chosen to leave up to the viewer to suss out in their own way.

Included in this show is "the ladies," a small series of interpreted portraits from black and white photographs of some elderly women. She did not know the ladies personally, so she added her own personalities in colour. She's got a knack for capturing what's behind the face in her portraits. One she did of a biker dude has irked viewers for years, and actually had brought forth a deep seeded part of the man's psyche that was later revealed in reality. Almost an eerie gift!

This avid painter hates to clean brushes, and so has found ways around it. Sponges, rags, fruit and veggies have saved her the trouble. She once painted a mural for a friend using these materials, expressly a zucchini. "I like the effect that the throw away can give me," she says. "This One's for you Grant" is the only traditional landscape in this exhibition that has no clothesline. It really was instigated by her brother Grant. After he asked her why she was always painting odd things and never just a nice landscape, she decided to do one, and titled it accordingly.

She has also added an interactive twist (Sandy just has to add a twist) to her show with a "Name that Painting" contest. The piece is based on a photograph she took just minutes before the tornadoes that hit Haliburton County in the summer of 2006. The prize for picking the best name wins two tickets to the Masquerade Ball Fund-raiser for the Newfangers Art Festival. In order to enter, head down to the Rails End Gallery and Arts Centre, open every week from Wednesday to Saturday. Sandy's work will be on display in the Members Gallery there until April 5th. This is truly a don't miss show – even if you can't stand the thought of doing laundry.

If you're interested in more of Sandy's work you can leave her a message at 457-6518. ■

"If you make your own whipped cream, try using honey instead of sugar. I find that it has a sweeter flavor and it also stays firm longer than regular sugar. I especially like it on tarts." — C.A. in Louisiana

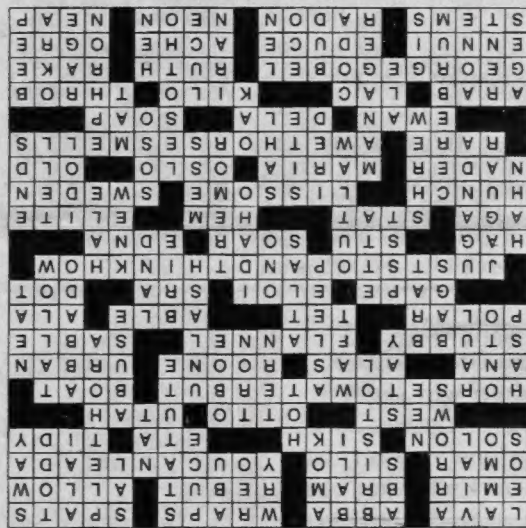

Here are two uses for dental floss in the kitchen:
1) Use it to truss a turkey or chicken; it's strong and doesn't burn — just remember to use non-waxed and non-flavored.
2) You can also use it to slice delicate desserts, like cheesecakes, or even brownies. It leaves a nice, straight line with no dragged bits.

"If your child really dislikes taking medicines — especially a young child who does not like liquid medicines — try letting him or her have an ice pop first. Give the child the ice pop, and when he or she is about halfway through, the child's tongue will be numb enough that the medicine won't really taste as bad. Make sure the child knows he or she has to take the medicine, but that it will taste better after having the ice pop." — T.Y. in South Carolina

If you are concerned about wearing out your sheets evenly, try this old trick: Attach a safety pin to side of the sheet that's at the foot of the bed. Before you remove the sheet for washing, switch the pin to the opposite side of the sheet (the head of the bed). Launder as normal, then when you make the bed, arrange it so that the pin is at the foot of the bed, as it was before the switch." — I.L. in New York

To sprinkle sugar on cookies or other baked goods evenly, use a salt shaker. Be sure to mark it "Sugar."

Coby Hockey Tournament Ready to Roll into Town 30th Annual Easter Recreation Tourney Set for tthis Weekend

Terrance Gavan
Sports Editor

Get set for a dose of summer gridlock this weekend.

The 30th Annual Easter Hockey Tourney (also known as the Highland's Cup Challenge, is scheduled for Minden and Haliburton Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and tourney coordinators Pat Russell and Melissa Weaver are expecting one of the best turnouts ever.

"We've got 51 teams and 94 games this year and it's going to mean a lot of business for stores, restaurants and hotels in the area," said Weaver. She said that they received the final entries last weekend and added that it took them about 3 hours to finalize the rosters and playing schedule.

This year's tourney will be split into four groupings: Super A Division, two Recreational Men's Divisions and a Ladies Section.

"We'll have eight final games on Sunday," said Weaver. Each division will play down to an A-Side and B-Side Final. Prizes are awarded to the two recreational and the Ladies' division, while the A-Side Teams play off for a money pool based on their $640 entrance fee.

The tourney gets underway at both Minden and Haliburton venues at 6 pm on Thursday evening. Games on Thursday will go at six, seven, eight, nine, 10 and eleven p.m. Each game consists of two 20-minute running time periods

On Saturday, games get underway at 8 am and run to 3 pm.

After that, the website schedule ends and from that point, scheduling will depend on playdown results. Lists of game times are up on the website which is located at <http://www.hockeyhaven.on.ca/starttimes.htm>.

Weaver says that each team is guaranteed at least three games in the format. ■

HALIBURTON HIGHLANDS
HEALTH SERVICES

For The Health Of The Highlands

HHHS LOOKING FOR NEW DIRECTORS

Haliburton Highlands Health Services Corporation has openings for new directors - local residents and cottage owners who are anxious to help build on the outstanding services currently provided in the county. HHHS operates facilities in Minden and Haliburton providing emergency services, acute and long term care. As well, HHHS provides county-wide mental health, diabetic education and supportive housing programs.

HHHS is privileged to have an outstanding team of health professionals and facilities less than a decade old. New initiatives have been undertaken in the past years to bring HHHS into the digital age and upgrades are underway to the two emergency rooms. Challenges persist in attracting new staff, meeting the needs of our aging population and anticipating and planning for the future.

The HHHS board strives to bring together a group of individuals with knowledge of the community. All property owners in Haliburton County are welcome to apply. HHHS is particularly interested in hearing from people with knowledge and/or interest in any of the following areas:

- Planning and provision of health services to the residents of Haliburton County,
- Haliburton health services within the context of the broader community and the Ontario health care system,
- Participation on a community board,
- Expertise in health care, accounting/financial management, information systems, or public relations/communication.

If you feel you have the time, energy and commitment to be a Director, then we would like to hear from you by April 10, 2008. The new Directors will be appointed at the annual general meeting in June.

For further information and an application package, please contact:

We have so many memories.

But we wish we still had you.

Always remembered and forever loved - Darlene and Family.

Obituary

KASEPCHUK, TERESA JENNIFER-

Teresa was taken away suddenly from her family on Wednesday, March 12, 2008. In her 27th year.

Loving daughter of Winnie and Gary Kasepchuk. Beloved sister to Jason (Kelly), Ashley (Jeremy), and Kimmy. Sadly missed by her boyfriend Stephen Brooks. Predeceased by her grandparents; Bill and Irene Kasepchuk, Fred and Winnifred Henderson. Dear niece of Billy and Suzanne, Mark and Sheila, Helen, Diane and Brian, Rena and Rene, Walter and Ruth, Joan and Gary, Dennis and Joan, Larry, and the late Teresa. Loved by all who were ever touched in her life. She will be missed by all family and friends.

Friends are invited to visit the family at the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home Ltd. 127 Main St. P.O. Box 427, Minden, Ontario K0M 2K0 www.gordonmonkfuneralhome.com on Wednesday evening from 6-9 pm. Then to Our Lady of Fatima Catholic Church, Minden for Funeral Mass on Thursday, March 20, 2008 at 11:00 am. Reception to follow in the Church Hall.

In Lieu of flowers, donations to the Children's Wish Foundation or to the Trust Fund in Memory of Teresa Jennifer Kasepchuk would be greatly appreciated by the family. Mar c 08

Obituary

NORWOOD, JOY GLADYS "BARNEY" (NEE PERRIN) - Passed away at the Peterborough Civic Hospital with her daughters by her side on Monday, March 17, 2008, in her 84th year. Beloved wife of the late Harold Lloyd Norwood (1983). Loving mother of Gayle and Tom Rowan, Lea Mann and much loved nanny to Terra (Tom) Miscio, Dawn (Jeff) Bain, Craig (Amy) Mann, Amber Rowan, predeceased by grandson Aaron Mann and great nanny to Jessica, Cody, Kade, and Timmy. Dear sister to June (Richard) Patterson, Ora Hutchinson, and predeceased by her brother Don Perrin and sister Ina Gratton.

In accordance to Barney's wishes, cremation has taken place and a private family gathering will be held at a later date.

Memorial Donations to the Toronto Star Fresh Air Fund or to the Haliburton Hospital Auxiliary would be appreciated by the family and can be arranged through the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home Ltd., P.O. Box 427, Minden, Ontario K0M 2K0 www.gordonmonkfuneralhome.com
